

24 February 2010

Dear Parents,

With the end of the spring term approaching surprisingly quickly, I am pleased to announce the details of a Year 7 and 8 Drama production. This is a play with a difference, for it will not take part in the QEH theatre, but instead, 'in promenade' – all around the school! The performance will commence on the school drive and wend its way through the lower foyer, into the dining hall and out into the yard.

We are enacting the very famous story of The Passion, depicting a section of the Easter story. Having adapted and written the script myself, I am hoping that I have been able to bring new life to a story with which a great many people are already familiar.

QEH has never before attempted a production in promenade, so this is an exciting opportunity to experience theatre on the move! The Passion will be enacted in a medieval mystery style, but with modern dialogue. I very much hope that you will join us and become part of this ground breaking production.

Please note that large portions of the performance will be conducted outdoors. This means that even in the event of rain, the production will go ahead, so please bring sensible footwear and clothing for this play, plus umbrellas/waterproofs if the weather is forecast to be wet. We will be on hand with spare waterproof ponchos on the day!

To book tickets, you can call the QEH school office on 0117 9303040 and they will send tickets out to you via your son's form tutor, or you can fill out the slip below and return it to the QEH school office directly. Please include your home address if you would like the tickets to be sent out to you. Tickets are priced at £2 each.

I look forward to seeing you all there,

Yours sincerely,

Miss Morgan – QEH Drama Department
